[illegible]—[Special.]—It is a signifi[illegible] the Chicago nominations that [illegible] of your peace in Con[illegible] admit the republicans [illegible] that could have been [illegible] talking for buncombe, [illegible] the leaders, in interviews [illegible] that Blaine and [illegible] the basis of these [illegible] and shaking [illegible] than Blaine [illegible] meeting of [illegible] were almost unani[illegible] Blaine would be the [illegible] were offered that some other man might be chosen. The sulkiness of a few so-called independents, and the bolt of the so-called free trade papers which for years past have been democratic in everything but name, does not afford the democratic leaders that full measure of hope that they pretend. They remember too well the threatening attitude of the stalwart republicans of the east after Garfield's nomination, a faction which then represented a hundred-fold greater force in politics than the independents of New York and Massachusetts possess, and they have not forgotten how, in the end, a practically united party in November of 1880 easily captured the great prize. They place but little reliance on the influence of the journals which idolized Garfield in 1880, and praised his administration until the hour of his death, and are now making ready to assail Garfield's secretary of state and the mainstay of his administration.

BLAINE'S REFORM RECORD.

Senator Mitchell of Pennsylvania called the attention of your correspondent to-day to a fact of interest to friends of civil service reform in New York and Massachusetts, and particularly George W. Curtis and Henry Cabot. "Early in 1882," said Senator Mitchell, "I had a talk with Blaine relative to the necessity for the passage of a law to reform the civil service. At the time I was a member of the civil service committee, and I had the same deep interest in the subject I still feel. I saw impending trouble for the party in Pennsylvania, growing out of a deliberate attempt on the part of politicians to thwart the will of the people, and I felt convinced that the enactment of a law placing the appointment of subordinate government officials beyond the power of the favorites of the administration was a matter essential to the maintenance of the supremacy of the republican party. At that time I think you could have counted upon the fingers of one hand all the senators who would have voted for the passage of such a civil service law as we now enjoy. Then it was that I talked with Blaine on the subject, and to my gratification he expressed himself in the strongest terms in favor of the enactment of a law regulating appointments to office. It was not until the political earthquake of 1870, when the people expressed their emphatic disapproval of machine methods, that the republicans were aroused to the necessity for passing the civil service bill. Blaine was then far in advance of the great majority of the republican senators in favor of this reform, and it is a fact that I think the voters of the country should understand.

PLEASED WITH THE TICKET.

Personally, I am greatly pleased with the ticket. Blaine's nomination was brought about by the opportunity given the people, in the selection of delegates under the district system, to express their choice. To those who nominated him can be intrusted the duty of electing him. The only element in the presidential contest which party leaders consider a doubtful quantity, and one that may have a marked effect on the ticket, is the prevailing stagnation of business, and the unsatisfactory condition of the working men. Democrats on the stump will endeavor to place upon the party in power the responsibility for this condition of affairs. The fact, however that the democratic party, with seventy majority in the house, has not passed a single bill to assist the class of whose grievances it proposes to make campaign capital, will be used to answer this charge."

THE CANDIDATE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Special.]—General Logan appeared in the senate this morning, promptly at the opening hour, healthy and good-natured. He received congratulations on his nomination for vice president, and replied to all joking comments with vigor, laughing as heartily at the others' jokes as his own. He was shaken heartily by the hand by democratic members, and received their jocular predictions of his defeat with smiles. Logan has recovered entirely from the nervousness which overcame him last week; that was due, it is said, to an alleged understanding between Blaine and Logan, or between Logan and William Walter Phelps, which is the same thing, looking to his nomination for president. The truth is, Blaine didn't want the nomination, and if Logan had developed sufficient strength in republican states to give him a substantial following, the Blaine men at Chicago would have combined with the Illinois delegation and nominated Logan. It was the consciousness that he was almost at the realization of his greatest ambition that caused the black warrior to become so nervous last week. His friends at Chicago were not able to control the howling demand for Blaine, and the latter and his supporters were not able to carry out the programme which perhaps would have suited Blaine just as well. Logan consented to run for vice president only because he was assured his name would add strength to the ticket. Logan's raven hair is just turning gray and he is still a young man. It is believed that there is an understanding that he shall succeed Blaine if they are elected this year. At any rate, Logan knows he is not going to lose anything by allying his political fortunes to Blaine.

WILLIAM WALTER PHELPS' VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—[Special.]—William Walter Phelps, one of Blaine's lieutenants, who returned from Chicago last night, conversed to-day upon the threatened bolt in New York and Massachusetts. He says the question of how serious the independent disaffection will prove will be settled in a day or two. The independent opposition to Mr. Blaine, he says, will not be effective unless there is a convention called and some decided steps taken, and this cannot be done, unless, which is not likely, they may be tempted to wait until after the democrats hold their convention, and then it will be too late for action, and they will fall back into the republican ranks. Another thing, there is no combination of action and no definite object in view. Some of their leaders are wildly for Blaine. Pennsylvania is the great center of the independent movement, and there they are enthusiastic for Blaine. The only positive opposition is in New York and Massachusetts, and that will not affect much, for even there they are not united. Even Allen, one of their acknowledged leaders, is a noted Blaine man. Blaine will lose votes in Boston, but all the people throughout the state that went over to Butler will be glad enough to get back into the party by casting their votes for Maine's statesman. This will vastly more than make up for the loss in Boston.

Notes from the Metropolis.

THE "SUN" ON JUSTICE FIELD.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Sun has a two-column article on the democratic nominee, which, of course, is negative in regard to everybody and positive in regard to Tilden, who will not accept. The article has this to say of Field: "On the Pacific coast there is a conspicuous and very able aspirant in the person of Justice Field of the supreme court. He is a profound lawyer, and in regard to all public questions that involve constitutional doctrines he shows himself thoroughly imbued with democratic principles. We heard of him as a candidate in 1872, in 1876 and in 1880. In the last named year his friends made an energetic attempt to secure his nomination, and the delegations from the Pacific coast were willing. But in the present emergency his popularity at home seems to have declined. The democracy in California has become strongly wedded to anti-monopoly doctrines, and justly or unjustly they seem to have imbibed a feeling of hostility to Field in consequence. In fact, some of the primary conventions in that state have explicitly instructed their delegates to oppose his nomination. As an indispensable condition of success is that the aspirant must be warmly supported by the delegation of his own state we conclude that in the national convention of next July there is no prospect of Field's nomination. In some respects this is a pity; he possesses qualities and accomplishments that would make him a valuable president, but the unwritten law which bars the occupancy of the White house to judges of the supreme court is not now to be set aside in his case."

ADVICE FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—This evening the Post, following in the wake of the Times this morning, urges the democrats to nominate Cleveland. The Commercial this evening squints in the same direction, but adds: "We are not in love with Blaine, but Blaine would be a savory and nutritious morsel compared to such leaders as Tilden and Hendricks, whom the democratic managers are trying, by a trick, to bring before the convention."

The Post's Washington says: "There is very much more talk of Cleveland for leading place on the ticket than there has been. The names mentioned as best calculated to capture the independent votes are Cleveland and Bayard. Those opposed to Bayard insist that his war record would make him a bad candidate. If Cleveland is chosen the democrats will undoubtedly nominate a Union soldier for second place, and Morrison's name is mentioned, or if the leading candidate is from the west General Slocum will be assigned the second place. General Butler of South Carolina says the democrats can beat Blaine and Logan if they nominate such a ticket as Bayard and Governor Stoneman of California."

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Tribune reports: Ex-Senator Chaffee said: "There will be no difficulty in carrying all the mining states for Blaine and Logan. In Colorado they will receive at least 8000 democratic votes. California, Nevada and Oregon are perfectly safe, and I am very confident we shall carry West Virginia in October, as well as in November."

"We can carry New Jersey for Blaine and Logan, provided the country is not overwhelmed by a great financial crisis before next November," said William Walter Phelps.

Senator Miller of California regards success of the ticket in the Pacific coast states as a foregone conclusion and Senator Plumb expresses the utmost confidence in the general result.

An intimate friend of General Grant said to-day that he has no doubt the ex-president will take the stump for Blaine and Logan in New York, whenever his services are required.

BEECHER HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

NEW YORK, June 9.—[Special.]—"I shall preach as usual to-morrow night," said Beecher, in making his announcement yesterday morning, "but it will not be a political sermon. I have nothing to say on politics to my congregation or to reporters."

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Tribune says: "Beecher told a Baptist minister yesterday that he intends to stand by the old republican flag, but not by Blaine. Well, it is an impossible feat. The republican party, acting as delegates, has placed the old republican flag in Blaine's hands, and it is impossible for Beecher to stand by the flag without standing by Blaine, the flag bearer, as for a man to stand by Plymouth church and not by Beecher."

THE "POST'S" THREAT.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Evening Post, having stated some time ago that if Blaine was nominated it would give more proofs of his unfitness than had yet been mentioned, a subscriber this evening challenges their production, and says: "When Garfield was nominated, some papers tried in every way to prove him dishonest, and your saintly Hewitt publicly stated that his word could not be relied upon. I think this abuse helped to elect Garfield, and possibly Blaine may be elected by the same means." The Post replies that it will produce further proofs of Blaine's unfitness for the support of honest voters when it suits our convenience. There is plenty of time between now and November."

THE BOLTERS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—There is no apparent movement looking to a new party by disgruntled republicans, as it has been reported there would be. A score of republican banners have already been thrown across the Brooklyn and New York streets.

The Times publishes numerous letters, signed "republican," "disgusted republicans," "outraged republicans," etc. Very few are signed by real open names, and they are generally unknown, or of the Times' employes are "bogus." A list of republican papers which have bolted has also been published, but this contains many papers which never were republican.

THE IRISH VOTE.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Tribune prints a letter from a Massachusetts delegate to the late convention, whose standing in the republican party since its organization, the Tribune says, has been of the highest, and who says: "Down this way the nominations are well received. Then the Irish are favorable to Blaine, on account of his attitude toward Great Britain." The Tribune adds, The same may be true in New York, and the Irish republican leaders say they know it. If New York is a pivotal state this may be of great consequence. The writer is undoubtedly correct in his inferences that a large Irish vote will be cast for Blaine in this state.

A CARD FROM "PUCK."

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—It having been stated that the last number of Puck, which contained a cartoon of Blaine as a tatooed man, would be issued as a democratic campaign document, the proprietors of Puck say: "The cartoons in Puck are published in the interest of public morality and good government, and are not intended to serve as campaign documents for either political party. We shall not, under any circumstances prepare or publish, or permit to be published, separate editions of Puck's cartoons for such purposes."

TARIFF REFORM LEAGUE FORMED.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A tariff reform league was formed here to-day, with W. B. Anderson, of Rochester university, president. The vice presidents include Henry Ward Beecher, William Curtis and ex-Governor Robinson. The league is to hold an annual convention. Addresses were made by David A. Wells, General Devine, Thomas G. Sherman and others, and Mr. Wells was requested to frame a pamphlet on the tariff question, to be distributed among the people.

HAYES PLEASED.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—Sun's Cleveland: R. B. Hayes talked about the nomination of Blaine. He said: "It is an excellent choice, probably the very best that could have been made. There were no machines, or politics, or complications about Blaine's nomination. It was the choice of the people at large, carried out by the action of their representatives at the convention. He will carry Ohio and will be elected."

NEW YORK NOTES.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Chicago delegates from this city have arrived. Though most went for Arthur, they return, without exception, enthusiastic for Blaine.

Walker Blaine has been called to Augusta by his father. It is supposed he will play a principal part in the coming campaign.

NEW YORK NOT ESSENTIAL.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—Colonel John A. Joyce says: "Blaine can lose New York and still be elected. He can carry the Pacific slope, Indiana and Connecticut, on protection to American industries."

MISSOURI, TOO.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The republicans held a ratification meeting in Mercantile hall to-night. The hall was packed with people and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested. Ex-Congressman Finkelnburg presided and speeches were made by General John B. Henderson, Chauncey I. Filley, Colonel D. P. Dyer, J. Milton Turner and several others, all of which were received with great applause. Both factions were well represented, and the utmost harmony and unity of purpose prevailed.

THE GERMANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—Turner hall was crowded to-night by a meeting of Germans, called by the German republican club to ratify the nomination of Blaine and Logan. Speeches were made by A. H. Bode, General J. S. Robinson and Hon. J. B. Foraker. There was much enthusiasm.

State Conventions.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

STOCKTON, June 10.—The democratic state convention, which met here to-day, was called to order by John H. Wise.

Mr. Wise, in an eloquent speech, said: "Let us democrats of California send a delegation to Chicago for the old ticket of Tilden and Hendricks. If Tilden is nominated we can pledge California against the Plumed Knight of Maine." The mention of Tilden's name was greeted with tremendous applause. All present jumped to their feet, waving hats, handkerchiefs and canes. For several moments the speaker was unable to proceed.

When quiet was restored the nominations for temporary chairman were called. Stephen M. White of Los Angeles for anti-monopoly was elected by acclamation. On taking the chair, and while in the course of a speech, he said it was the duty of democrats throughout the entire country to nominate Tilden for president.

After the appointment of various committees the convention adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The third congressional district assembled in caucus and elected Warren B. English and M. F. Tarpey delegates to the democratic national convention. Both are pledged for Tilden and Hendricks, with Thurman second choice. John R. Glascock was unanimously nominated for congress.

The fourth congressional district elected John F. Wright and Louis Holtz delegates to the democratic national convention, both pledged for Tilden and Hendricks. For congressman E. P. Hastings was nominated, defeating Sumner 56 to 9. Adjourned.

NEVADA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

AUSTIN, Nev., June 10.—The democratic state convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by Matt Canavan, chairman of the state central committee. George W. Baker of Eureka was elected temporary chairman, and H. P. Flannery of Storey was elected secretary. After the appointment of the usual committees, the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

G. W. Cassidy was nominated by acclamation for congress and W. H. Sewall for supreme judge. A. C. Ellis, George Ernst and W. E. F. Deal were elected presidential electors. D. E. McCarthy, E. P. Hardesty, John H. Dennis, J. Sadler, T. Lemmon and Matt Canavan were elected delegates to the Chicago democratic national convention. All are pledged for Tilden and Hendricks. Adjourned.

PACIFIC COAST.

The Tables Turned.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—[Special.]—H. D. Wetmore, of Lucas' detective agency, was arrested to-day on a charge of false imprisonment, and a warrant for his principal was also issued. It appears that Lucas took one George E. Price, recently from Oregon, into custody on a warrant for seduction issued by a Portland justice of the peace, and on application of Governor Moody to the governor of this state. He also had a requisition from Governor Stoneman, which is deficient, in not having the signature of the secretary of state. Price was arrested Saturday afternoon and held till yesterday, when a lawyer interfered in his behalf. His custodian, Wetmore, was put under lock and key and he himself liberated. The matter will come up in the police court. Meanwhile Lucas is anxious to get the signature of the secretary of state, and is fearful that Price may take advantage of the flurry to escape.

Wheat Greatly Injured.

[Special.]—The rain of Sunday did more damage than first reported. Grain as well as hay fields suffered, and it is estimated that the total wheat product of the state will be several hundred tons less than expected owing to this untimely drenching. Fruit suffered a little, but not to a serious extent.

Divorce Granted to Mrs. Woods.

SAN JOSE, June 10.—Mrs Louisa A. Woods was to-day granted a divorce from ex-Governor George L. Woods, on the ground of abandonment. Custody of the minor child is awarded to Mrs. Woods. The parties were married in Yamhill county, Oregon, in 1852. Abandonment is alleged to have occurred in August, 1882.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The First Cavalry Leaves Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, June 10.—[Special.]—The first cavalry went into camp near the city last night, where they were visited by a large number of citizens. They marched through town this morning, headed by their band, with colors flying, on the way to their new station. There is much regret at their departure.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

HORRIBLE BUTCHERY.

DULUTH, Minn., June 10.—Last Saturday, Mrs. Enrieke, a farmer's wife, went to a neighbor's for milk, and as she did not return, search was instituted, lasting till 5 o'clock to-day, when the body was found. It is the most horrible butchery ever known in this part of the country. The woman had been shot in ten places, outraged and then put on a log head downwards, bowels cut open, and otherwise cut in a manner too horrible for print. The community is greatly excited over the ghastly discovery.

A BLACK BRUTE LYNCHED.

GALVESTON, June 10.—Galveston News' Winslow special: A negro named Joe Britt attempted to outrage a little 10 year old white girl early Sunday morning. Britt escaped for the time being, but was arrested yesterday and identified by the child's mother. At 4 o'clock this morning a mob of fifteen citizens visited the calaboose, broke open the doors and shot the negro between the eyes with a rifle, killing him instantly. No arrests.

ARRESTED FOR SELLING POOL TICKETS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—John E. Kelly, member of the well known bookmaking firm of Kelly & Bliss, was arrested to-day on a charge of violating the laws by selling pool tickets at the Jerome park races.

ANOTHER BANK DEFAULTER.

WILMINGTON, June 10.—Cashier Hallis of the Citizens' bank has defaulted. The amount is unknown. The bank, it is alleged, is sound.

SPORTING NOTES.

INTERNATIONAL DOG SHOW AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The second international bench show of dogs opened here to-day. There are about 300 dogs, in 76 classes, sporting and non-sporting. Nearly all the states of the union and England, Scotland, France and Canada are represented. Following are the principal first premiums awarded to-day: Champion English setter dog Paul Gladstone, owned by W. B. Gates, Memphis, Tenn., valued at $1000; extra champion English setter bitches. Champion Dido, second owned by W. B. Shattuck, Cincinnati. Dido is a noted prize winner, and is valued at $15,000.

YACHT CLUB REGATTA.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The nineteenth annual regatta of the Atlantic yacht club to-day was the most successful in some years. Twenty-seven yachts started. The winners were: Class A, Grayling; class B, Triton and Agnes; class C, Mischief and Fannie; class D, Fanita and Mean; class E, Crocodile; class F, Romeo and Daisy; class G, Amazon and Fanita. George Gould's yacht also won the Livingston memorial prize.

DOMESTIC DISPATCHES.

Great Damage Caused by a Storm and Flood in Vermont.

THE UNION DEPOT AT ST. PAUL BURNED.

Big Fire at St Paul.

ST. PAUL, June 11.—The Union depot is burning. The fire caught in the kitchen of the restaurant connected with the depot, which is located on the third floor. The fire spread so rapidly that twenty waiter girls and employes connected with the restaurant escaped with only their night clothes. The loss upon the depot will be in the neighborhood of $300,000. There are fears of the fire spreading to the immense wholesale grocery houses which fill the block.

The fire is now under control. There is no danger to other buildings. The fire was confined to the depot building, and sheds will be used as a depot for the present. The loss will reach $100,000.

Disastrous Storm and Flood in Vermont.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., June 10.—This village has been visited by another disastrous flood, the second within eleven months. At noon yesterday a moderate rain fell, but an hour later a storm of terrible force broke upon the village. A storm was also in progress about five miles north of town, and a high wind, that changed in a few minutes from south to southwest and then back again, drove the two storms together. The rain fell as if a mighty river was falling from the heavens. The whole stretch of country which sloped west to Black river and east to the creek sent torrents of water toward the town. Warning was at once given, but so rapidly did the water rise that few had time to save anything, and were forced to flee for their lives. The channel of the creek soon became filled with the wreckage of houses, barns and other buildings which forced it in other directions. One stream plowed through the Springfield house, another through Hart & Dodge's livery stable and another through Ellison Bros' stage barn. The individual losses and damage to the highway will reach at least $50,000. Just across the Cheshire bridge a barn was blown down, killing Wm Parsons and family and injuring a woman named Bella Spaulding. The storm raged over three hours.

Crop Prospects.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Widely extended crop reports received by the Farmers' Review show no material change in winter wheat since the last report, except that the general condition is not so good. The weather has been moderate for spring wheat. In Minnesota all counties report wheat looking finely, with the exception of one or two counties, where the average yield, it is estimated, will fall below that of last year. Reports from Nebraska and Indian territory give an average prospect for wheat. In corn a majority of the Ohio reports are not such as to indicate anything more than a good crop. Indiana has promise of an average crop, except in the southern portion of the state, where the outlook is gloomy. The same is true of Illinois. Iowa reports good wheat and corn prospects, and the wheat yield in Kansas promises to be very large. Wheat prospects in Kentucky are not as promising as a year ago. In Michigan an average crop is predicted. Farmers generally are delivering surplus stocks of wheat and corn freely.

Chinese Excursion.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The steamboat Grand Republic yesterday carried 600 Chinese and three times as many white people up the Hudson river to Oscawana island. It was the second annual excursion of the Chinese Sunday school of New York and Brooklyn. The Chinese scholars chartered the boat and paid the expenses of the trip, and their guests were mostly teachers and other persons interested in the school. On the way up the river about 200 of the pleasure seekers kept up a continual singing of hymns, while on the upper deck a Chinese band produced the most hideous apologies for music, from an odd looking instrument. At the island monster kites were kept flying in the air for hours, and there was a continual fusilade of fire crackers and bombs, except during a half hour devoted to religious exercises. The small hotel on the island was overrun with hungry Christians and heathens, until all the provender in the place gave out.

Extending the Quarantine Proclamation.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—In view of the fact that it is now too late to erect the necessary hospital and quarantine buildings at the mouth of the Mississippi river for use the present season, and that the time is now rapidly approaching in which yellow fever at infected points assumes its greatest and most malignant violence, the Louisiana state board of health last night adopted resolutions recommending that the governor extend the quarantine proclamation issued May 1, so as to require the period of forty days detention of all vessels and persons coming from ports therein named, to take effect July 10 and to continue in force until revoked.

Wild Talk.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Joe Brady dynamite club met to-night. James McArdle said: "There is agitation in England to get Americans to turn on the Irish who favor dynamite. Blow up these English sympathizers, too, the first chance you get. You have a right to use dynamite here in this country, if the government gives you the least cause. The only way to make dynamite thoroughly popular is to make it successful. Let England have one downright good slap that will make the dishes dance in Queen Vic's pantry, and her heart will shrink with fear; though I am against killing the old woman."

The Civil Engineers in Session.

BUFFALO, June 10.—The American society of civil engineers convened to-day, about 400 delegates being present. Papers were read by distinguished members on engineering questions. At the evening session President Whittemore delivered the annual address. Resolutions were passed asking President Arthur to appoint President Whittemore a delegate to the international standard time conference. The nominating committee consists of O. T. Fields of Buffalo, A. Fink of New York, George Gray of San Francisco, F. E. Kiefer of Ottawa, and Henry Flagg of St. Louis.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, June 10.—As usual on Tuesday, the market was very dull. Purchases from agents for small assortments were of necessitous character. The feature of the day was an auction sale by Bullock of standard diagonal and worsted coatings. The offering was between 7000 and 8000 pieces. Considering the dullness of the demand for clothing and woolens, diagonals did very well. Other stuffs did not do as well.

Rev. Newman Disgusted.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—Speaking of the statement yesterday that General Grant had severed his connection with Newman's church, and that he had not yet selected a new place of worship, Newman said to-night: "Why do the newspapers print such lies? I dined last night with the general, and know there is no truth whatever in the statement. He is president of our board of trustees, and will remain in that position."

Indian War in Dakota.

YANKTON, DAK., June 10.—A special from Springfield says: Indians bring reports that last week some Brule Sioux at Rosebud agency got into a fight among themselves. Three were killed and the balance of the band, which numbered about 6000, taking sides. A general engagement is in progress. The Indians are well armed and mounted. This information comes wholly from Indian rumors, and may not be reliable.

The High Water in Texas.

EL PASO, Texas, June 10.—The railroad bridge was washed away to-day, and intercourse with Mexico is cut off. A bridge on the Southern Pacific railroad west of Yuma is washed out, cutting off communication between here and California. This severs all railroad communication. No eastern mails are arriving. Prospects for an early subsidence are unpromising.

A DENIAL.

ALL ABOUT A CHINAMAN.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The steamer Newport, of the New York and Cuba Mail steamship line, which arrived from Havana on the 4th, had on board a Chinaman named Pun Kin, whose passport designated him as a trader, but who in reality was a porter in a store in Havana. Learning this the custom house authorities refused him permission to land, and ordered that he be taken back to Havana. Your reporter called on Deputy Collector Wynkoop regarding the matter, and he said: "We could not, under the statute, allow Pun Kin to land. I understood he wanted to locate in business in this city. As the term trader might mean anything or nothing, I ordered the master of the vessel to allow him to go ashore and to take him back to Havana. Very few Chinamen are coming here now, and there are very few cases where they try to get smuggled as professionals. The law is very strict on the subject, and we obey it to the letter."

With the view of ascertaining if the law was as rigidly enforced, your reporter called at the dock of the steamship company to-day, and was informed by the customs officer stationed there that Pun Kin had been allowed to go through to San Francisco, his passport, as the official expressed it, having been fixed up. When Deputy Collector Wynkoop was informed of this fact he wrote the following reply: "Landing was positively and finally refused to him (Pun Kin) and the master was notified that his duty was to take the Chinaman away from this country. You should require of Messrs. J. E. Ward & Co. whether they complied with the statute."

A FRANK AND FORCIBLE REPLY.

Your reporter immediately called at the office of the firm above named and laid the matter before W. H. T. Hughes, member of the firm. His reply was: "I don't know whether the Chinaman landed or went back; and furthermore, I don't care a d—n about it, one way or the other."

Your reporter asked who did know, but could get no satisfactory answer. He then went to pier 17, where he again saw the customs official who had told him in the morning that Pun Kin had landed, and whose statement was corroborated by the man in charge of the door and in the employ of the steamship line. When the customs inspector read Wynkoop's note he said, testily: "Now you know as much about this matter as we do. There is nothing more to be said about it."

"But you told me this morning that Pun Kin had been allowed to go through, and you see what the deputy collector has to say on the subject," insisted the reporter. "I was told he got his passport straightened out and was allowed to land."

Said the official: "All I know is, the Chinaman was on the Newport, in charge of its officers, when the vessel was at Brooklyn."

Your reporter next called at the barge office and saw boarding master Maybee, who said: "I have nothing to do with examining passports or certificates of Chinamen. If there is a Chinaman on a steamer when I board her I simply report the fact to the custom house, and a man is sent from there to attend to the matter."

RESULT OF THE INVESTIGATION.

It was further learned that most of the Chinamen come here from Havana; that a majority do not intend settling here, but want to pass through to San Francisco, and that no bogus certificates have been detected as yet. From conversations with boarding officers and other subordinate officials of the custom house, your reporter was impressed with the belief that the regulations here for carrying out the Chinese restriction act are very incomplete and loosely performed.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Extracts from Government Reports Soon to be Printed—A Hopeful Promise.

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Special.]—The Journal of Commerce prints an abstract of government reports on the progress of the Panama canal, soon to be issued, and relative to which Senator Mill introduced a resolution. Admiral Cooper's report reaffirms his previous judgment that the canal will be finished and says the question whether this will not be a better route than Nicaragua has almost passed from the problem of interoceanic communication. He bases this on the facts that the work has been fairly begun; that an immense quantity of machinery and material is on hand and has been contracted for; that the number of men and the amount of excavation have been largely increased, the number of laborers to 15,000 and the excavations to 700,000 cubic metres, nearly 1,000,000 cubic yards per month; the general health of the Jamaica and Carthagena men is good; funds remaining from the original subscription are still sufficient to carry the work forward one or two years, and the prestige of De Lesseps sufficient to secure the rest which may be needed.

Lieutenant Rogers' report says the general line of the canal is that of the Panama railway from which it diverges not more than half a mile, until it reaches the neighborhood of Panama. The divergencies, necessitating at some points deeper cuts than those for the road, are to permit easy curves of 200 metres, the radius called for by the experience of the Suez route. The length from Aspinwall to the end of the tidal lock at Panama is a little over fifty miles. The breadth of the waterway will be from twenty to fifty miles. The height of the canal route at its greatest point above the sea is 331 feet. The amount of excavating done has increased monthly, reaching in April last 650,000 metres.

Rogers says the chief engineer expects to complete the work by 1888 perhaps sooner.

The French reports admit the superiority of American machinery over their own. Admiral Cooper says, in the matter of soundings, that the American diamond drill has done more work in three months than had been accomplished by the old methods in the two previous years. Since October, says Rogers, the dredge of the New York company has dug a passage from Colon 1075 metres long, enabling vessels to pass up the canal a half mile.

IN WALL STREET.

The Stock Market Closes Generally Lower—Closing Quotations.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Governments were a fraction higher for 4s. Share speculation opened slightly lower, on the appointment of a receiver for the West Shore road. Before the first call, however, there was a rally, but subsequently prices fell off ¼ to ½ per cent. At 1 P. M. a firm tone prevailed, on the announcement that the Western Union directors had recommended the declaration of the usual quarterly dividend. It was also stated that the company's report for the current quarter will be favorable, showing a surplus of $300,000 after paying the dividend and all charges. Prices rallied 1½ to ¾ per cent. During the afternoon the market was weak, with occasional rallies. It left off about firm. Compared with last night prices are ½@1 per cent. lower.

General Swaim to be Court-Martialed.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The record in the court of inquiry in the case of General Swaim, judge advocate general of the army, reports the facts as developed by the evidence, and concludes as follows: "The court is of the opinion that while it is not prepared to say that any specification developed by the evidence is actually fraudulent, yet the evidence does show a series of transactions undesirable in any officer in the army and which especially demand the severest condemnation when engaged in by an officer holding the high position and peculiar relations to the administration of justice in the army held by Brigadier General Swaim." The secretary laid the report before the president to-day, and it was decided to order a court martial for the trial of General Swaim. Details for the court will be made in a few days.

It is not understood why druggists keep in stock so many kinds of medicines for coughs, colds and consumption when it is only necessary to keep Allen's Lung Balsam, that old, reliable remedy, which is a pure vegetable preparation, and perfectly harmless, as it contains no opium in any form. Sold everywhere.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

An Old Affair.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A cable dispatch was received from London this afternoon, stating that in the British commons to-day the under foreign secretary stated that a representation touching the duty of friendly powers in regard to dynamite has been addressed to this government, but that no reply has been received. This dispatch was shown Secretary Frelinghuysen to-night, and he said it seemed to refer to representations made to this government touching recent outrages, but the state department had not received anything on the subject from the British government since the commission of the recent dynamite outrages.

June Crop Reports.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The June crop report of the agricultural bureau shows that the condition of the winter wheat continues high. The average is 93 against 94 a month ago. The increase in the area of corn is 4 per cent. The average of rye has advanced from 96 to 97. The barley average has fallen from 101 to 98.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 10.

After some consideration of the Mexican pension bill it was displaced by the regular order (the Utah bill), which was informally laid aside to admit consideration of the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill.

Allison explained that the amendments proposed by the senate committee on appropriations added $410,000 to the bill, as it came from the house. The house had appropriated $500,000 less than the appropriation last year. The amendments proposed by the senate committee were agreed to, except the provision appropriating $250,000 to meet expenses attending upon the executive neutrality act.

The senate then went into secret session, after which it adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—On motion the chairman of the committee on ways and means reported a concurrent resolution, providing for adjournment of congress Monday, June 30, at 3 P. M. Adopted without division.

The house went into committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill. Numerous amendments were offered, but voted down.

The committee rose, and the house took a recess till 8 o'clock.

The house at the evening session took up the bill directing the secretary of the interior to obtain from the Red Lake Chippewa Indians the relinquishment of their title to the Red Lake reservation in Minnesota, and after a long debate, and without action, adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL CHIT-CHAT.

THE QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A resolution to adjourn sine die on June 30 was reported from the ways and means committee, and adopted by the house to-day. The resolution was adopted unanimously by the house, but it is extremely doubtful if the same success will attend it in the senate. Mr. Randall says the house will be ready to adjourn on that date, and whether they will or not depends entirely on the senate. The members of the house are all very anxious to get away, and say the date for adjournment cannot be fixed any too soon. On the other hand, it is thought the senate will not agree to any adjournment until the house shall have acted upon several important measures which have passed the senate. If the senate insists upon the house taking action on these measures it may delay the adjournment a couple of weeks longer, but the general opinion is that an adjournment will be had about the middle of July.

OUR BARGAIN WITH NICARAGUA.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The sum required by Secretary Frelinghuysen to buy for this government certain rights which it is understood the Nicaraguan government has conceded for an inter-oceanic canal, is $250,000, not $300,000, as heretofore reported. It is embodied in a paragraph in the consular and diplomatic bill, attached to it by the senate committee on appropriations and reported yesterday. It was this paragraph which was under discussion in secret session by the senate this afternoon. No action was taken.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF CALIFORNIA.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Special.]—Senator Plumb, from the committee on public lands, made a favorable report to-day on the bill authorizing the United States to pay to California five per cent. of the net proceeds of sales of all public lands, to aid in support of the common schools. Similar bills have passed congress on behalf of Ohio, Louisiana, Oregon, Colorado and other states. There is no prospect of the passage of the bill at this session, however.

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM, June 10.

The commencement exercises at the Willamette university has drawn together a large number of visitors in Salem.

Rev. Dr. Hoyt, one of the first teachers at the Willamette university, is a guest at the residence of Major George Williams.

Sheriff Rogers of Linn county arrived here last evening, having in charge one Joe O'Brien, convicted of burglary and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Circuit court convened yesterday. The docket, although small, embraces a number of very important cases, both civil and criminal, among the latter the trial of the Swartz murderers.

F. Hentschel, an old resident of this city and county, died at his home on Piety hill, and was buried yesterday. He was well known as a man of strict business integrity, and by those who knew him best was well thought of. He leaves a small family.

The finance committee appointed to canvass the city for funds to assist in paying the necessary expenses of the forthcoming printers' picnic commenced their labors last evening, and met with excellent success. The affair promises to be the most successful one that has ever taken place in Salem, and your readers, one and all, are cordially invited to visit Salem on the Fourth of July and witness for yourselves the antics of the craft.

Efforts are being made, with every indication of success, for the formation of a military company at Whiteaker, in this county. Nearly forty young men have already signed the roll and fifty will undoubtedly be enrolled before the company is organized. G. W. Hunt, Jr., who has seen active service in the regular army, is interesting himself in the matter. They already have an excellent armory and drill ground and will shortly be ready for organization and equipment.

The Kendall dramatic troupe opened at Reed's opera house last evening to a fair audience, notwithstanding numerous outside attractions incidental to commencement week at the capital. Those present, however, were most pleasantly surprised at the excellence of the entertainment and were enthusiastic in their praise. "The Bonanza King" is a drama of unusual worth and full of startling situations. Every part was well sustained and nothing was slighted simply because the house was not what it should have been. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall are thorough painstaking artists, and in their respective roles were the best that have been in Salem for a long time, and their support was none the less effective. Their orchestra was also fine and rendered some very choice selections between acts.

ITEMS FROM THE DALLES.

THE DALLES, June 10.

Miss Cora Allen of Yakima is visiting friends in this city.

W. S. Myers was elected justice of the peace for this precinct at the last election by one majority.

Governor Moody has sold his interest in the stock of goods recently moved to Second street to Messrs. W. H. Moody and D. M. McLeod.

Hon. W. Lair Hill is attending court at Pendleton. He has been retained to defend young Barnhart, who killed an Indian on the Umatilla reservation about two months ago.

Mr. Owen Thompson and his daughter, Miss Mattie Thompson, of Oakland, Cal., are visiting their old home near The Dalles. It is about two years since they moved to California.

City politics are now the chief topic of interest. The question at issue will be high license and city water works. A citizens' caucus will be held at the court house this (Tuesday) evening.

Sunday the services at the Methodist church were devoted to the children. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. In the evening the services consisted of recitations, readings, an essay and music.

The graduating exercises of St. Mary's academy will be held in their hall Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Grace [illegible] will receive a medal for proficiency in music, and Miss F. Fitzgerald will receive a diploma and medal for excellence in other branches of study.

The Mozart club will hold the last of their series of rehearsals this evening at the residence of W. R. Abrams. The club, by busy practice and faithful study, has won an enviable reputation as a musical society, and has done much to maintain an interest in music among the young people of The Dalles. It is to be hoped that the club will renew their weekly meetings in the fall.

The result of the election as to county clerk is still in doubt, both candidates claiming a small majority. Thompson, republican, claims one majority, with Crown Rock, a republican precinct, to hear from. Knight's claims fifteen majority so far as heard from. The official count will be necessary to settle it. Taylor's majority in this county will not be less than seventy, and may exceed 100.

ITALY.

THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE A DEMAND.

ROME, June 10.—Signor Mancini, minister of foreign affairs, addressing the chamber of deputies to-day, said it was improbable that the American congress would have time for discussion during the present session of the bill placing foreigners upon the same footing as Americans, as regards the duty on the introduction into America of works of art. If the bill is not considered by the 21st inst., as will be demanded by Italy, it would take measures to obtain compensation, as he considered the present law unfair and at variance with the treaty of commerce between the two countries. The ministers of foreign affairs, commerce and finance were considering a bill which might be brought into operation after an agreement with other European governments. Bonacci, in reply, said if the American government persisted in its present course Italy should abolish differential duties, or denounce the treaty with America.

NAVIGATING THE UPPER COLUMBIA.

Kittitas Localizer, Ellensburg, W. T.

Captain W. P. Gray, an old acquaintance and a steamboat man of many years' experience on the Columbia and Snake rivers, has been traveling through the upper country, from Ainsworth, along the river via Priest Rapids to Rock Island, and thence to Okanagon City, and thence to this place, inquiring into the feasibility of navigating the upper Columbia, and the prospects for establishing steamboat communication with the Big Bend country. He says there is no great difficulty or danger in taking a steamboat over either of the above rapids at the present stage of water. The above facts were drawn from Captain Gray. The enterprise, we have no doubt, can be successfully worked up. At the mouth of the Moses coulee is the place for the landing of goods for a large part of the Big Bend. If boats can be taken over Priest rapids at the present stage of water, one boat is all that will be needed to try the experiment. A boat can be started from Celilo loaded with goods and make the trip now as far as Wenatchie, with no danger or risk, Captain Gray says; hence we conclude the experiment need not be very expensive. The O. R. & N. Co. have the boat, which could be speedily equipped for the trial. Captain Gray's experience in handling steamboats is of long growth, and we believe he has gained a fair idea of what can be done, the expense to be incurred, and the ultimate results of the venture. Captain Gray is a practical man, and by his observations we are of the opinion that he has taken in the whole situation, so that he can speak advisedly upon the subject. Our own business men no doubt would consult their best interests by shipping to and from Priest rapids, which can be done for $20 per ton. Grain, wool and hides could be shipped too by this route, and have return loads. The sale of the grain would bring money into the country, and the property of the farmer would be greatly enhanced. Captain Gray informed us that a man in Douglas county would enter into an obligation to build a good wagon road from the mouth of the Moses coulee to the open country near Bracken and Okanogan for $1400; but the money must be deposited in the bank at Ellensburgh before work is undertaken.

LATER—Capt. Gray continued his trip below, and will endeavor to enlist the favor of the people of Yakima to encourage the navigation of the Columbia by shipping their goods to Priest rapids instead of hauling them from The Dalles.

Durham is historic. It was neutral ground during the armistice between Sherman and Johnson. Soldiers of both armies filled their pouches with the tobacco stored there, and, after the surrender, marched homeward. Soon orders came from East, West, North and South, for "more of that elegant tobacco." Then, ten men ran an unknown factory. Now it employs 800 men, uses the pink and pick of the Golden Belt, and the Durham Bull is the trade-mark of this, the best tobacco in the world. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco has the largest sale of any smoking tobacco in the world. Why? Simply because it is the best. All dealers have it. Trade-mark of the Bull.

absence of foreign interference in the development of that policy which has political creed, her territorial extent and the close and cordial neighborhood of kindred governments have made the essential rule of her national life.

It may be overstating it to say that Mr. Blaine's public acts were all done with the presidency in view; but, at least, it is well enough known that the general attitude of the candidate toward the people of the country is neither an accident nor a surprise. Since this is true and so well known, may it not also be true that, fairly and fully explained, some of his acts that have been criticised, especially those relating to his foreign policy, may turn to strength where they were feared as points of weakness. The above, from his book, certainly ought to appeal to the reason of any man who is an American at heart.

It was a foregone conclusion from the start that Arthur could not be nominated. He asked for an endorsement at the hands of the republicans of New York two years ago, and they responded by over 192,000 majority for Cleveland. Nearly 100,000 republicans refused to vote at all and about the same number voted against him. It was contrary to common sense to expect that he could be nominated and elected. He has made a good president, and is a very capable man, but he made a mistake in the canvass, which he would not have made if he had been trained to attach any great importance to the feelings of men as a source of political action. He has succeeded in convincing the judgment of the people, but not in winning their hearts. In the nature of things that was impossible.

It is not likely that the swindlers who were associated with General Grant in New York will be vigorously prosecuted. As all the men connected with the infamy of Black Friday and the St. Louis whisky ring escaped to save a great name, so now the criminals whose conviction would reflect upon that name will probably escape. When Grant issued his order to "let no guilty man escape" he excepted Babcock, who could not have been convicted as he ought to have been, without blackening the White house. The partners in the firm of Grant, Ward & Co. cannot now be convicted without blackening the nation. At least this is the argument that will be used, and probably with success.

It is the first time in thirty-two years that the national conventions of two great parties met in the same city. In 1852 both General Scott and Franklin Pierce were nominated by their respective parties in Baltimore. In 1844, in the same city, James K. Polk and Henry Clay were nominated. The first national convention of the republicans was held in 1856 at Philadelphia, when General Fremont was nominated. With a single exception, that of 1872 in Philadelphia, the republicans have since held no national convention east of the Alleghanies.

As a starter toward his attempt to try and induce republicans to ruin their own party, Mr. George William Curtis has succeeded in persuading the Harpers to ruin their own business of publishing Harper's Weekly, if we may believe the dispatch which says it will oppose Blaine. The difference will be that Mr. Curtis does not sit so close to the republican party of the country as he does to the younger generation of Harpers.

General Manager Hickson, of the Grand Trunk, has issued an order stating that, owing to the heavy expenses the company has incurred by garnishee summonses against the wages of employes, the management had decided to discharge any employe whose wages might be garnished, unless satisfactory explanation could be made. The effect of this order should be salutary. The disposition to run in debt is so strong that it needs checking. If the laboring classes cannot live as they would like to, they must live as they can. The habits of economy and thrift should be encouraged, and the decision of the Grand Trunk company will compel men to be careful not to contract debts.

A colored college is in successful operation at Harper's Ferry, the scene of old John Brown's raid. Its seventh commencement has just been held. The leading object of the college is to furnish teachers for colored schools. The whirligig of time produces strange changes. There was little likelihood when old John Brown and his sons were shot down at Harper's Ferry that free colored men would be peacefully pursuing a collegiate education in the very locality where the bloody conflict took place that so alarmed the slave oligarchy of the south, and contributed a large influence to precipitate the rebellion.

Ex-Governor Davis of Minnesota made a very able and patriotic address at St. Paul on Memorial day, condemning the iniquities of our revenue systems, the excess of taxation, the centralizing tendencies of the government, the enlarged jurisdiction of the federal courts, the corrupt fastening of moneyed monopolies upon the people and the assumption of illegal personal powers by public officials. "In my judgment," the ex-governor says, "it is of vast importance that the functions of the federal government should be as much as possible restored to what they were before the war. It now does too many things. It taxes with two hands."

When Rip Van Winkle was asked if his wife had been in the boat which was upset, what he would have done, he replied that he would go home and "think about it." A great many republicans in the eastern states are "thinking about it," and it is not certain yet that they will exert themselves to save the candidate of their party. This will impose a greater task upon the enthusiasts.

The Chicago Herald, in advocating the claim of a New York democrat for the nomination, says that when a native of that state runs on that ticket he is elected. McClellan was a New Jersey man; Greeley was a New Yorker, but not a democrat; while Hancock is a democrat, but a Pennsylvanian. Seymour and Tilden were New Yorkers and democrats, and they won.

It was Mr. Blaine who first brought the term "stalwart" into politics. He used it to denote such as were strong and unwavering republicans. It was turned against him as designating a faction, but is now in order again to stand for the entire party, with the exception of those who, while claiming to be republicans, secretly hope to see the democrats win.

Frank Hatton is supposed to have taken up his residence permanently in Chicago. He neglected his office in Washington and came to Chicago and said he was there till Arthur was nominated.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The "Hidden Hand" opens to-morrow night at the New Market.

At the Tivoli "Les Perichole" still fills the house. Next Monday, by request, the "Chimes of Normandy" will be revived for four nights, then "La Grand Duchesse."

Signor De Vivo, the impressario, who has brought to the coast nearly all the great artists, arrived by last night's steamer. He says he will set Portland wild with the concert company, which opens at the New Market next Tuesday. There is no question, he says, that Maldanza is to-day the greatest tenor robusto on the stage.

The San Francisco Call of Thursday last has the following in regard to Stechhan's enterprise in that city: "The ill-starred Standard theater has once again succumbed to the public indifference. The new minstrel company had some very strong features, but the pecuniary difficulty came unusually rapidly to the front, and the receipts of $30 or $40 a night did not strike the people engaged as sufficient guaranty for salary. The house was accordingly closed last night. Bobby Newcomb has taken over the lease and proposes to open the theater on Monday next with a strong show. Nat Goodwin has some idea of playing a brief engagement there some time later with pieces he has not had the chance to play at the Baldwin. But Mr. Newcomb does not seem quite sure about that."

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY.

EUGENE CITY, June 10.

The exercises of the eighth annual commencement of the Oregon State University begin Sunday, June 15, with the Baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. G. W. Izer of Portland.

The number of graduates this year is nineteen, twelve in the classical and scientific departments and seven in the normal department.

The whole number of students is 215. There is no primary department connected with the university. The working force at present is composed of seven regular professors, old and experienced teachers, and two tutors.

From the fact that state scholarships from the most remote parts of the state are being eagerly sought after, it is concluded that the superior advantages of this institution are being recognized.

The coming commencement exercises promise to be of more than usual interest. Following is the

OREGON STATE MILITIA.

Inspection Report of Lieut.-Col. J. K. Phillips, Commanding the First Regiment, Second Brigade.

PORTLAND, May 15, 1884.

R. F. Earhart, Adjt. General—Sir: I beg leave to submit the following report of inspection, just completed, of the several companies of my command. By reference to the tabularized statement transmitted herewith it will be seen that the total number of officers and men present on inspection was 169, or about 60 per cent of what the minimum strength of six companies should aggregate. The number of stand of arms inspected is 255, of which 39 are reported unserviceable; of the number reported unserviceable, 34 stand are susceptible of repair, and 5 stand should be condemned. The arms of some of the companies were found in a shameful state of neglect. This was severely animadverted upon, and proper care is now given to their arms by all the companies.

Of equipments the greater and most serviceable portion is the property of the companies. Of equipments the property of the state, the major portion is wholly unfit for service, and should be condemned for destruction and the property lists of the state relieved from carrying so much rubbish. Other equipments, as knapsacks, haversacks, canteens, shelter tents, &c., are wholly wanting.

No ammunition is in possession of the companies nor in charge of the regimental quartermaster. All the companies are at an expense, in most cases exceeding the state allowance, have secured suitable company armories, but the necessity of a general, or combined armory, large enough to give space for battalion drill, is very apparent. The discipline and drill of Companies A, B, E and G are commendable, that of Company G being highly so. Companies D and F are under poor discipline and very defective drill, but are earnestly endeavoring to attain greater proficiency.

Company B has the regulation dress uniform. Companies E, F and G, by making slight and inexpensive changes, would have the regulation dress or the fatigue uniform. Companies A and G make no approximation to the regulation dress.

It is certainly the interest of the state to have a body of citizen soldiery, upon which she may rely, to aid the civil authorities in quelling riot and insurrection, and in the enforcement of law, as well as to repel foreign invasion. Oregon being a border state, and now rapidly augmenting her population, should carefully look after the efficiency of her organized militia. With this view I would most respectfully submit the following recommendations, viz:

First—The appointment of a board of officers to inspect the property herein reported unserviceable, with a view of its destruction or proper repair.

Second—That steps be taken by the state to properly uniform the several companies with the regular fatigue or service uniform, consisting of trousers, blouse and cap, and otherwise to equip them in such manner as shall enable them to render efficient service in case of any sudden emergency arising therefor.

Third—That not less than 6000 rounds of ball cartridges issue to the regimental quartermaster, to be issued to companies on requisition of company commanders, approved by the commanding officer of the regiment, under regulations prescribed by the commanding officer of the brigade, a portion of such ammunition, not exceeding five rounds per man during any year, to be expended in target practice.

Fourth—That the proper blanks be prepared for muster rolls, property reports, etc., and that company and regimental officers be rigidly required to fill up and forward the same, as is the intent of the law.

Fifth—That blank warrants for non-commissioned officers be prepared and issued to the regimental commanders.

Sixth—That such measures be taken as shall purge the muster rolls of an inactive and but nominal strength, and fill the ranks with active, efficient material.

Respectfully submitted, J. K. PHILLIPS,
Lt. Col. Commanding.

THE EAST SIDE.

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION.

The East Portland republican convention, to nominate candidates to be voted for at the city election next Monday, was held at the council chamber last evening.

S. R. Harrington was elected chairman, and S. O. Souther, secretary.

Nominations were made in the following order: Recorder, auditor and clerk—J. T. Stewart, the present incumbent, and John Shaver were placed in nomination. The first ballot resulted in a tie of seven each, blank, one. On the second ballot Stewart received eight votes against his opponent's seven, and was declared the nominee of the convention.

Marshal—N. B. Craig received nine votes, against four for James H. Sprague and two for T. F. McMillan, and was declared nominated.

Treasurer—Thomas Welch received eight votes against six for George Perry, and was declared nominated.

COUNCILMEN.

A recess was now taken for the delegates from the several wards to select candidates for councilmen; and upon the convention being called to order the different delegations reported the following nominations:

First Ward—Cyrus Buckman.
Second Ward—I. G. Wheeler.
Third Ward—J. G. Gunnor.

On motion of S. M. Keenan the nominations were ratified by acclamation.

The election of a central committee being next in order, W. M. Killingsworth was nominated for the First ward, H. C. Hill for the Second, and William Halfpenny for the Third. There being no other nominations, they were elected unanimously.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

A democratic city convention is hereby called to meet at Neppach's hall, Thursday, June 12, 1884, at 7:30 P. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted for at the ensuing election in East Portland.

C. H. RAFFETY,
Chairman Executive Committee.

NOTES.

The O. R. & N. clerks have each been granted a week's vacation, to be taken alternately.

The committee on refreshment stands for the Fourth of July are ready to receive bids.

The lot on the corner of Fourth and D streets has been leased for the building of a first-class carriage establishment, which will be commenced at once.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Breyman and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knott have gone to Yreka, Cal., on a pleasure jaunt, to extend about a week.

Piles are being driven to support the rear of the new Ladd building on the corner of Fifth and J streets, that portion of the structure having settled several inches.

The city ticket nominated by the republicans last night is generally conceded to be a good one. The renomination of Recorder Stewart for a third term is a just compliment to a faithful and efficient officer.

C. D. McLaine, civil engineer, who has successively held responsible positions under the government of East Portland and the O. R. & N. Co., leaves by the outgoing steamer for Stockton, Cal., to accept a position in that state.

INVITATION TO INSPECT SCHOOL WORK.—Persons who wish to examine, at their leisure, the various specimens of plain sewing, knitting, hair work, drawing, painting and wax work, done by the pupils attending St. Mary's academy during the present school year, will please call at the academy, entrance on Market, between Fourth and Fifth streets, on Monday afternoon, June 16, and on Tuesday, except during the commencement exercises, which will begin at 1 o'clock and be held in the exhibition hall on Fifth street.

Angostura Bitters is a household word all over the world. For over 50 years it has advertised itself by its merits. It is now advertised to warn the public against counterfeits. The genuine article is manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

A CALL.

"To F. Opitz of the First Ward, S. Farrell of the Second Ward, Ira F. Powers of the Third Ward—Gentlemen: The undersigned citizens of Portland, Oregon, believing that all political alliances should be disregarded in municipal affairs, and that irrespective of party, all should unite in the selection of members of the council with a view only to good government, respectfully request that you permit your names to be used for the office of councilmen from your respective wards, at the city election, to be held on Monday, June 16, 1884:

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 10.

The forenoon of Monday was spent in examining classes in various branches of study. The examinations were oral and were witnessed by numerous visitors, who expressed themselves as well pleased with the way in which the work was done by students and teachers.

In the evening the Philodorian and Philodosian literary societies gave an entertainment in the chapel. This was the first public appearance of these societies, and they acquitted themselves in such a manner as to do credit both to themselves and to the university. An admission of fifty cents was charged, the object being to raise money to purchase a piano for the societies.

The opening exercise, an instrumental duet, was well rendered by Misses Hattie Bushnell, of Eugene, and Jessie L. Potter, of Colfax, W. T.

At its close Mr. W. C. Hawley, of Monroe, delivered an opening address, that was full of fine thought, and gave evidence of the good work these societies are doing in developing the minds and hearts of their members.

Mr. A. Caldwell then favored the audience with a vocal solo.

"Human Expression" was the subject of an essay by Miss Jessie Eastham. One learns to judge men belonging to the various professions by their expressions. Culture changes the expression. Refinement is indicated by expression as well as by language. As the face expresses character, let it ever be the index of a pure soul. The essay was a thoughtful composition and was well read.

At its close Miss Mary Starr very sweetly sang "Queen of the Night."

John O. Goltra of Albany then declaimed, in fine style, "Marmion and Douglas."

"Good night Will Come Again," a quartet, was very acceptably rendered by Misses Jessie L. Potter and Fara Evans, and Messrs. E. H. Belknap and J. B. Starr.

Miss Lena Irwin recited "Mona's Waters" in such a manner as to command the closest attention of the audience.

Lute Savage next gave a choice violin solo and was well accompanied on the piano by Miss J. L. Potter.

Next in order was an oration, "Wendel Phillips," by George M. Brown of Roseburg. The orator quite fully described the life, labor and purpose of Mr. Phillips, and paid a glowing tribute to his worth.

The evening was pleasantly ended with a vocal solo by J. B. Starr.

The examinations closed at noon on the 10th and the trustees met at 9 o'clock A. M.

Advertising with a Vengeance.

W. W. Cole, the great showman, estimates that his advertising for the season of 1884 will amount to $150,000. Last season he expended $90,000 in advertising, and cleared a trifle over $100,000 by the result.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The Last Night of the Term at Bishop Scott Grammar School—Dr. Hill's Report.

The chapel of the school was well filled last evening by a large number. Bishop Morris conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Perkins formerly of Astoria. All of the clergy in the town were present, as well as a large number of those who were here at the convocation. Below we give Dr. J. W. Hill's report. This was followed by an address from Dr. Nevius, who drew many good lessons from thoughts suggested by the study of "Trails." It showed considerable study and was well received. The idea was new and fresh and handled in an exceedingly happy manner.

The bishop then presented two certificates, elegantly engrossed by the writing teacher, to Louis Garretsche and Dudley Stevens for the most improvement in penmanship during the term.

DR. HILL'S ADDRESS.

Rt. Rev. Sir, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is with feelings of gratification that I submit to you this, my sixth annual report, on the work done during the past school year in the Bishop Scott Grammar school. I would ask your attention for a few minutes, while I bring to your notice some facts as to the actual condition of the school, and offer such suggestions as have presented themselves to me at various times during the past year.

If we, ourselves, may be allowed to judge, then the year has been a successful one. As far as a larger number of earnest and faithful work by an increased number of teachers denote success, this year shows considerable gain over any previous year. But whether this teaching has resulted in a wider and deeper development of the minds and characters of our boys, the future alone will tell.

School opened September 4 with twenty-nine boarders and twenty-six day scholars, which numbers had increased at the second quarter to thirty-seven boarders and thirty-one day scholars. At the second term we had thirty-eight boarders and thirty day scholars, while we close with thirty-six boarders and twenty-six day scholars. These numbers include only those who were in actual attendance at the time mentioned. Our catalogue shows a total of eighty-two in attendance for the year, forty-nine of them being boarders and thirty-three day scholars. We have had an average attendance of thirty-five (35) of the former in the house all the year, while the average of the day scholars has been twenty-eight.

Allow me to call your attention to our catalogue for this year. We consider it the best and clearest we have ever published; we have made a few changes in it, but they will readily explain themselves. The most important change is that we have raised the price of board and tuition to $500 a year. We have been driven to take this step by the increased cost of all kinds of school supplies. We also claim in this catalogue that of other schools of our grade without exception, you will see that our price is lower than any school doing the same grade of work. And here allow me to utter my feeble protest against sending boys to the east to obtain that which they can obtain just as well at home. Distance lends enchantment to schools, as well as other things. Where in the east will you find better boarding schools for boys and girls than our own church schools on this coast. I know whereof I speak. Our schools out here are just as well officered as any of the eastern schools. True, some of us have not such elegant appointments, handsome buildings, large incomes and high-sounding systems, but give us the material and we will turn out just as good citizens. Fine buildings, large grounds and elaborate bills of fare, much as some of these things do help, cannot make good schools without conscientious teachers and earnest, intelligent pupils. We offer you the teachers in these, your own home schools; will you take away from us these scholars?

The discipline of the school has been maintained without any serious difficulty. As compared with last year, I think we have had a little more trouble, but perhaps no more than was to be expected from the increased attendance. The offenses have not been as numerous, but have been of a more serious nature. For instance, this past year several of the boys have left the grounds without permission, which from the very nature of the case is a serious violation of the rules of order. The offenders were severely punished for the first offense, and expelled for the second. And this leads me to speak of the evil of giving too much spending money to boys. It leads to extravagant habits and excesses in many ways. It gives them false ideas of the worth of money, and puts into their hands the means of getting into mischief. If parents would require a monthly statement from their children of all money spent, and would not send them a new supply until all the old was accounted for in a satisfactory manner, they would teach their children business habits and check in a great measure this reckless habit of spending money foolishly. At times it has seemed to me that the boys were acting worse than ever and showing less inclination to submit to discipline. But when I think of the number of boys we have here gathered from different families, where opposing standards of right are followed and every degree of home training from the loosest to the strictest is represented, and when I think of the different habits, tempers and dispositions, the many temptations, and the new life thrust upon them, the wonder is that we do not have more trouble in bringing them all into one orderly family where harmony and obedience must rule. It is human nature to rebel at the idea of authority and it would seem as if the youth of our new civilization possessed this characteristic in a marked degree. The child's story carried home and properly colored, is made an issue between the parent and the school. The child is sometimes upheld in his course, although clearly in the wrong, simply because parents come to a decision before hearing both sides of the affair. The most frequent excuse of a scholar who is punished for breaking a rule is that the teacher is "down on me," and therefore unjust. It is perfectly absurd that any teacher who has the least pride in his profession should have a grudge against a scholar. Any boy who makes such a charge does not believe it in his heart at the time of making it, and always finds that the grudge of his teacher vanishes with his disposition to break rules. All honor and thanks to those of you who have stood by us so steadfastly. You have that satisfaction which comes from having done what is right, and will have no cause for regret. I do not wish to appear to claim that in these cases of discipline and differences of opinion, to put it mildly, that a teacher does not occasionally make mistakes in judgment. He would differ from the rest of mankind if he did not err, but that he does so intentionally, I deny. It, indeed, requires a peculiar tact, untiring energy, and an inexhaustible amount of patience, to manage successfully a family of forty to sixty healthy, restless boys. Some of your parents, with two or more of these creatures at home, may have a faint idea of the situation. To conduct affairs so as to please all would be an utter impossibility, and so the conscientious teacher endeavors to do his duty as best he understands it. He works not for present gratification, but for future results, and his only satisfaction is that time brings its own vindication.

Therefore I say to you, parents, give the teachers of your children your confidence and tell them both sides of your children's characters. They certainly have faults, and they do not always leave them at home. If you would only mention those weak places to the teacher, how much more intelligently he would be prepared to meet them, and how much better it would be for all concerned.

The course of study in the different schools of our country have been discussed in various quarters during the past few months. In the light of this discussion it might not be out of place to mention our position and to give a brief outline of our course of study. We have two distinct classes of boys to deal with. One class of boys come here to fit for college and the other to get in a few years as good a preparation for their life work as possible in the limited time at their disposal. The needs of these two classes are obviously very different. Those fitting for college have a certain amount of work which must be done before they are prepared to pass their entrance examinations. We have no choice, therefore, in the arrangement of their studies, but must have them do their work carefully and thoroughly. As for the other class, we give them individual treatment. We recognize the fact that no two are constituted alike, and therefore cannot be treated alike. We have no cast-iron mould into which every scholar must be squeezed, without regard to his taste, ability or acquirements. We keep our classes down to such a size that we are able to give each one individual attention and by so doing advance him as rapidly in any study as he is able to proceed. We do not hold him back in three or more studies because he happens in one to fall below the standard required in a wholly arbitrary and artificially graded system. * * * *

Without going into detail as to the number of boys in each class, as I have done in former reports, I will give you only a few figures so that you may have an idea of the work we have done. Mr. Foote has had twenty-seven boys in Latin from those who began the study this year to those nearly finishing the preparatory course. He has also had a large class in history that have done well in class, and much reading on the outside connected with the events touched upon in their lessons. Mr. Hodges has had fifteen boys in algebra and thirty-two in arithmetic. He has also had a good class in geography and twelve in language lessons. I have had three boys in advanced geometry, fourteen in algebra, fifteen in English grammar and composition and twenty-three in bookkeeping, besides classes in physiology and chemistry. Dr. Bolander has had a class in trigonometry and eight boys in German. Dr. Bolander has used the natural or conversational method, and the amount of German the boys have learned under him is just simply wonderful. We expect to have this gentleman with us next year, and I hope the people will appreciate the unusual opportunity they have to learn any of the modern languages by the assistance of this patient and competent teacher using the natural method.

During the last quarter we have had the services of Mr. C. E. Webber of East Portland, as a writing teacher. He has not been with us long enough to make many good penmen of the boys, but he has aroused an interest and enthusiasm among them for this branch of an education that we feel confident will bear good fruit under his tuition next term.

Mr Sieblinger has had a good class in music, and they have made good progress under him, as they could scarcely help doing under a teacher so competent and thorough.

Mrs. Wakeman has had a small but satisfactory class in drawing.

Mr. Foote leaves us this year to take the Larned scholarship in Yale college, to which he has been appointed. He will take a post graduate course under the direction of the faculty, so as to further fit himself for his profession of teaching. His place will be supplied by Mr. W. P. Coley, a graduate of Yale and some experience as a teacher. We have every reason to lead us to hope that he will be quite an acquisition to our school. He will be assisted by Mr. J. A. Russell, one of our former pupils, who has been engaged in teaching for the past year. The health of the boarders has been good the year through; we have had no sickness worth speaking of, except four cases of measles shortly after the Christmas holiday. We can attribute this good health to our location on high ground, giving us good drainage and to plain wholesome food and regular habits of living. Generally in my annual reports I have been obliged to urge the prompt payment of fees. Our collections this past year have been reasonably good when we bear in mind the financial condition of the country. Next year we hope to be more strict in enforcing our rule of requiring payments invariably in advance.

I consider our prospects for a full school next year unusually good. The usual number of our old boys will return, and I have already engaged rooms for several. Here I would like especially to emphasize the point that we do not desire any but good boys. We can spend the energy and vital force necessary to subdue a refractory spirit to better advantage in assisting those willing to learn and submit to discipline. We require prompt and unhesitating obedience and will waste no time in trying to conciliate those who, although old enough to appreciate the advantages of an education, fail to do so. If the school continues to grow in the future as it has in the past, in a few years something will have to be done in the way of new buildings. This year we have been much crowded for room. And now in conclusion let me say that I honestly think this past year has been one of our best, and that my hope and endeavor will be to make next year an improvement on this.

WHEAT—English markets are firmer, No. 2 spring for prompt shipment showing an advance of about a sixpence. At San Francisco millers are doing nearly all the spot business and pay full prices. The local market is uninteresting and dull.

MILLSTUFF—Jobbing values steady at last quotations. Supplies and demand are about even. Ground barley is weak and consignments have sold as low as $20.

OATS—Close values uncertain and choice might command an advance on 38 cents. Receipts this week include 1500 ctls for Spokane on government account.

POTATOES—The market keeps up well and 35@40c is continued for best old.

CHICKENS—Old sold at $4 50 and young at $3 50, which appear to be top values. The undertone is less firm.

LOSS AND GAIN.

CHAPTER I.

"I was taken sick a year ago With bilious fever.

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I

Could not move!

I shrunk!

From 228 pounds to 120! I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, my pains left me, my entire system seemed renewed as if by magic, and after using several bottles I am not only as sound as a sovereign, but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe my life. R. FITZPATRICK.

Dublin, June 6, '81.

CHAPTER II.

"Malden, Mass., Feb. 1, 1880. Gentlemen—I suffered with attacks of sick headache."

Neuralgia, female trouble, for years, in the most terrible and excruciating manner.

No medicine or doctor could give me relief or cure until I used Hop Bitters.

"The first bottle

Nearly cured me;"

The second made me as well and strong as when a child.

"And I have been so to this day."

My husband was an invalid for twenty years with a serious

"Kidney, liver and urinary complaint

"Pronounced by Boston's best physicians

"Incurable!"

Seven bottles of your bitters cured him, and I know of the "Lives of eight persons"

In my neighborhood that have been saved by your bitters,

"And many more are using them with great benefit.

They almost

Do miracles!" —MRS. E. D. SLACK.

How to Get Sick.—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know how to get well, which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters!

DR. PAUL M. BRENN,

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence. Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Disease, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

As a general beverage, necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as limestone, sulphate of copper, etc., the AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years' duration, in every section of our country, of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited endorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. SPRING

Is the season in which bad or poisoned blood is most apt to show itself. Nature, at this juncture, needs something to assist it in throwing off the impurities which have collected by the sluggish circulation of the blood during the cold winter months. Swift's Specific is nature's great helper, as it is a purely vegetable alterative and tonic.

Rev. L. R. Paine, Macon, Ga., writes: "We have been using Swift's Specific at the orphans' home as a remedy for blood complaints, and as a general health tonic, and have had remarkable results from its use on the children and employes of the institution. It is such an excellent tonic, and keeps the blood so pure that the system is less liable to disease. It has cured some of our children of Scrofula."

W. H. Gilbert, druggist, Albany, Ga., writes: "We are selling large quantities of Swift's Specific for a spring alterative and general health tonic, and with the best results. It is now largely used as a preventive and cure for Malaria. There are many remarkable evidences of its merit in this section."

The Great Drug House of Chicago.

We do not hesitate to say that for a year past we have sold more of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) than all other Blood Purifiers combined, and with most astonishing results. One gentleman who used a half dozen bottles says it did him more good than treatment which cost him $1500. Another who has taken it for a Scrofulous affection reports a permanent cure from its use. VAN SHAACK, STEVENSON & CO.

One gentleman who had been confined to his bed six weeks with Mercurial Rheumatism has been cured entirely, and speaks in the highest praise of S. S. S. CHILDS & BERRY, Chattanooga, Tenn.
